100 percent of the money raised will be donated to the Nothing But Nets program and the Philadelphia Veterans Organization.

The idea for the Nothing But Nets campaign was started by Sports Illustrated columnist Rick Reilly, who encouraged readers to donate money to the U.N. Foundation after he found out that one African child, dies every 30 seconds from malaria.

The U.N. Foundation asked the United Methodist Church to join because of their community health work. 100 percent of every dollar we donate will go directly to the purchase, distribution and education about the proper use of these insecticide-treated mosquito bed nets. Every $10 dollars provides another net for a child.

The Philadelphia Veterans Multi-Service & Education Center is located at 213-217 North 4th Street. This location provides services for all veterans from computer training to life skills workshops.

They also have a special day service center for HOMELESS VETERANS providing meals, showers, haircuts, etc. Ninety two percent of every dollar we donate will go directly to helping HOMELESS VETERANS.

If you would like more information about these charities you can check them out at www.nothingbutnets.net; www.philavets.org
